- All internally lubricated parts that are captured between the valve cover and oil pan
- Cylinder block and head
- Front cover and flywheel
- Turbocharger
- Water pump
- Auxiliary transmission
- Drive (flex) plates/flywheel
- Drive axle assembly
- Drive couplings
- Drive shaft
- Final drive/planetary (except integral brake discs)
- Transmission
- Torque converter
- Hydrostatic drive pump gearbox
- Hydrostatic drive pumps
- Hydrostatic drive motors
- Hydrostatic drive pump/motor control valve(s)

Does my machine qualify for the Protection Plan?

If you are purchasing a new Case IH sprayer or floater or have an existing unit that is still within the manufacturer's base warranty period and was sold for use in the United States or Canada, it's eligible for the Protection Plan program.

When can the Protection Plan be purchased?

You can buy the Protection Plan when you purchase your new machine or anytime during the base warranty period.

Can I upgrade after purchasing the Protection Plan?

Yes. Once the Protection Plan has been purchased, you may upgrade to an increased protection option anytime during the machine's base warranty period.

Is financing available?

Yes. The Protection Plan may be financed on CNH Capital retail installment contracts, lease agreements or commercial revolving accounts.

Is the Protection Plan transferable?

Yes. The remaining term can be transferred to a new owner at no charge if you sell or trade in your machine.

What are the Protection Plan options?

- 3, 4 or 5 years/2,000 hours
- 3, 4 or 5 years/3,000 hours
- 3, 4 or 5 years/4,000 hours
- 3, 4 or 5 years/5,000 hours

These options are measured from the start of the Case IH base warranty, which is the date the machine was first placed into service. Each plan option lists a year limit and hour limit. The Protection Plan expires when the first of those limits is reached.

Is there a deductible?

Yes. The Protection Plan has a number of deductible options available.

Are there maintenance requirements?

Yes. The required maintenance must be performed at the recommended intervals outlined in the product operator's manual.
